The premier conference
for improving your gerontological practice
CARE • CONTINUITY • CONNECTION

A network of white medical icons connected by thin white lines, set against a blurred background of a person in a white lab coat. The icons include a heart with an ECG line, a syringe, a clipboard, a pill bottle, a nurse's cap, a computer monitor with an ECG line, a water drop, a flask, a first aid kit, and two test tubes. The central text "Register Today!" is written in a large, blue, cursive font, overlaid on a glowing orange circular light effect.

September 24-26, 2020

The 2020 GAPNA Annual Conference Is Going Virtual!

Tune in for live education beginning Tuesday, September 22, through Saturday, September 26, 2020, designed to incorporate what's best about connecting with colleagues and nursing leaders at our conference with what's best about distancing for individual health.

Invested speakers to help you prepare for the future of gerontological nursing.

What to Expect

- Access to live sessions and on-demand pre-recorded sessions.
- General and breakout sessions on current important topics relevant to your practice.
- Exhibitor Experience – Connect with exhibitors live to support our exhibitors and GAPNA!
- Industry-Supported Product Theaters – Industry representatives host a session that provides information on a specific product or service of interest to NPs.
- Online poster presentations – View posters and listen to recordings on demand and participate in live sessions with selected poster presenter Q&A.
- More contact hours than ever!

Adaptability is a hallmark of nurses, and we know it is the key to our shared success during these times. We look forward to having you join us as part of our virtual conference!

Conference Program

Tuesday, September 22, 2020

All times are Eastern Daylight Time.

11:00 am – 3:00 pm

Pre-Conference Workshop (7.5 CH) – separate fee

(must participate both days to receive contact hours)

010 Dementia Care Specialists Clinical Skills Training – Day 1 - R

Based on the UCLA Alzheimer's and Dementia Care Program

Sherry Greenberg, PhD, RN, GNP-BC, FGSA, FAANP, FAAN; Jennifer Serafin, MS, BSN, RN, GNP-C, GS-C; J. Michelle Moccia, DNP, ANP-BC, CCRN, GS-C; Carolyn Clevenger, DNP, RN, AGPCNP-BC, GNP-BC, FAANP; Leslie Evertson, GNP

This session will focus on training APNs as dementia care specialists (DCS) based on the UCLA Alzheimer's and Dementia Care Program model. Methods will include role-playing utilizing evidence-based tools required to perform a comprehensive cognitive assessment. These validated tools will help support a clinical understanding of person-centered care including caregiver needs to formulate a comprehensive dementia care plan.

Note: Prior to participating in this workshop, it is highly recommended the learner complete the DCS course available in the GAPNA Online Library.

Sponsored by UCLA and The John A. Hartford Foundation.

11:00 am – 3:00 pm

Pre-Conference Workshop (7.5 CH) – separate fee

(must participate both days to receive contact hours)

020 Gerontological Specialist Certification Exam Review Workshop – Day 1

Megan Pratt, MSN, APRN, FNP-BC, GS-C, Myla Magno, DNP, APRN, GNP-BC, GSC; Geraldine Kanne, MSN, ANP-BC, GS-C; George Peraza-Smith, DNP, ARNP-BC, FAANP, GS-C

The APRN specialty certification in gerontology – the APRN gerontological specialist – certified (GS-C) – distinguishes APRNs who possess expert knowledge, experience, and skill in managing the complex needs of older adults. This session will focus on reviewing material covered on the certification examination. Teaching strategies will include presentations, case studies, and interactive discussion based on the 12 proficiencies for the APRN gerontological specialist.

Welcome & Introduction

11:15 am – 12:15 pm

Opening General Session (1.0 CH)

101 Chronic Kidney Disease – R

Sherry Rivera, DNP, APRN, ANP-C

The geriatric population is at risk for developing kidney disease due to multiple comorbid conditions, age-related changes, polypharmacy, and transitions of care. Join us for an interactive session about how to reduce the risk for kidney disease in the geriatric population.

12:30 pm – 1:30 pm

Concurrent Sessions (1.0 CH)

111 The Gerontological Patient in the Emergency Department – AC

J. Michelle Moccia, DNP, ANP-BC, CCRN, GS-C

This session will outline the value of geriatric emergency departments versed in the care of an older adult. Comprehensive screenings, management approaches, and safe disposition strategies will be discussed using a case study approach.

Conference Program

112 Palliative Wound Care

Victoria Nalls, GNP-BC, CWS, ACHPN

This presentation will review what is known about end-of-life wounds, describe documentation of a wound prognosis along with the HOPPES and SPECIAL criteria, and discuss wound treatment for maintenance/palliative wounds. Cases will be discussed, demonstrating making the wound prognosis, documentation to support prognosis, and dressing management.

2:15 pm – 3:45 pm

General Session (1.5 CH)

120 Engaging Clinical Preceptors to Prepare Advanced Practice Nurses to Care for Older Adults

Laurie Kennedy-Malone, PhD, GNP-BC, FAANP, FGSA; Kala Blakely, DNP, CRNP, NPC; Melissa Kramps, DNP, GNP-BC, NP-C; Sara McCumber, DNP, APRN, AGPCNP, CNP, CNS

An expert panel will present approaches to engage APNs as preceptors in facilitating the learning of nurse practitioner and/or clinical nurse specialist students who will manage the care of older adults. Realistic approaches to recruiting and retaining preceptors, guidance for preceptors, and resources for preceptor training will be discussed, and attendees will become familiarized with the Gerontology Resources for APRN Preceptors and Students.

4:00 pm – 5:00 pm

Concurrent Sessions (1.0 contact hour)

131 Disaster Management

K.C. Arnold, ANP, BC-ADM

Nurse practitioner K.C. Arnold made it through Hurricane Katrina in 2005 only to find out she was losing her job 4 weeks later. She will describe how she opened her own diabetes clinic 2 months after a disaster. This is a story of success, perseverance, and hope to conquer whatever disaster comes your way.

132 Making Connections and Reducing Heart Failure Readmissions: Teleconsult to Improve Care Transitions – R

Margaret Bowers, DNP, FNP-BC, FAANP, FAAN

This presentation will describe a project that includes teleconsultation between hospitalists and skilled nursing facility providers with a focus on promoting successful care transitions and reducing rehospitalizations.

201 When Non-Pharmacological Approaches Are Not Enough: Psychotropic Medication Management of Neuropsychiatric Symptoms of Dementia – R

Elizabeth Galik, PhD, CRNP, FAAN, FAANP

This session will provide a framework for making safe and evidence-based prescribing decisions when treating neuropsychiatric symptoms of dementia that have not been responsive to non-pharmacological approaches.

12:15 pm – 1:15 pm

Concurrent Sessions (1.0 contact hour)

211 Meeting Nutritional Needs of Older Adults: Opportunities and Challenges

Evelyn Duffy, DNP, AGPCNP-BC, FAANP

This session will review the changes with aging that affect the ability of older adults to acquire adequate nutrition, along with changes in the gastrointestinal system and at the cellular level that compromise absorption of nutrients. The unique dilemma of the overweight older adult and risk factors for malnutrition and interventions to prevent or to address them also will be shared.

212 Hidden Tears of the Homebound

Rachel Zimmer, DNP, AGPCNP-C

This presentation will review how to identify and treat common mental health concerns in homebound older adults, the role of social isolation, trauma-informed approaches to care, and suicide trends in older adults as well as prevention strategies. It will also review national, evidence-based strategies that have been used to help relieve social isolation and identify mental illness or distress in homebound older adults.

301 GAPNA Health Affairs Committee: A Year in Review and Looking Forward

Deborah Wolff-Baker, MSN, ACHPN, FNP-BC, GS-C

Attendees will learn about the activities of GAPNA's Health Affairs Committee, important legislative issues affecting their day-to-day practice, and how to become engaged in legislative advocacy actions to improve healthcare outcomes for older adults and APRN practice.

12:15 pm – 2:15 pm

In-Depth Focus Sessions (2.0 contact hours)

311 Trauma-Focused Care Topics

Speakers will highlight approaches to managing trauma-focused issues in gerontological care.

311a Trauma-Informed Care for the Older Adult

Christina Ramsey, MSN, RN, GNP-BC, LNCC, CWS; Stacey Chapman, MSN, ANP-BC

It is essential for the clinician in skilled nursing facilities to identify areas of prior trauma because of the impact on the psychosocial well-being of each resident. Unidentified stressors can lead to disruptive behavioral changes and potentially place residents and staff at risk for harm. Attendees of this session will learn to apply information and resources of trauma-informed care, including knowledge, awareness, and training on how trauma affects the health and emotional wellness of the older adult.

311b Recognizing, Diagnosing, and Treating PTSD in Older Adults

Linda Keilman, DNP, MSN, GNP-BC, FAANP; Tamatha Arms, DNP, PMHNP-BC, NPC; Deborah Kernohan, MSN, NP-C

Best evidence on how to recognize, screen, diagnosis, treat, refer, and manage posttraumatic stress disorder as a comorbid chronic condition in older adults will be discussed. Differential diagnoses of acute stress/adjustment disorder, anxiety disorders, and disinhibited social engagement disorder will be described.

312 No Time for Shoulda, Woulda, Coulda: Refining 12/15 Lead EKG Interpretation Skills

J. Michelle Moccia, DNP, ANP-BC, CCRN, GS-C

Correct analysis and interpretation of 12/15 lead electrocardiogram (ECG) is imperative for management that can make the difference between life and death. By attending this session, you'll learn a systematic approach to identify patterns of ischemia, injury, and infarction; differentiate between right and left bundle branch block; and recognize high-risk ECG patterns indicating lethal electrolyte disturbances, acute pulmonary embolism, pericardial effusions, Brugada syndrome, and significance of Osborne waves along with QRS differentiation patterns of VT versus SVT. Advanced cardiac life support principles will also be discussed. This session will provide a new level of confidence of an essential skill.

Conference Program

2:15 pm – 3:15 pm

320 GAPNA Membership Meeting

Join your colleagues as awards are presented to the 2020 GAPNA Excellence, Foundation, and Research Award recipients. The incoming members of the Board of Directors will be introduced.

3:15 pm – 4:15 pm

Concurrent Sessions (1.0 contact hour)

331 Transcatheter Aortic Valve Replacements: History, Patient Selection, and Management Strategies – AC

Gregory Marler, DNP, ACNP, RN T

The percutaneous transcatheter aortic valve replacement has been designed to treat patients who are deemed at high-risk for surgical valve procedures. Understanding the history, ideal patient selection, literature, and postoperative complications and management strategies will provide healthcare practitioners a basis to build upon for optimal patient outcomes.

332 Delivering Difficult News: What NPs Need to Know

Debbie Gunter, APRN, FNP-BC, ACHPN

Current evidence shows providers' behavior and the way they deliver news to a patient are key elements that strongly influence a patient's future therapy. Delivering difficult news is a multifaceted task that can be managed successfully if done correctly. Using a template or communication protocol while delivering difficult news can help to instill and assure quality and empathy in this delicate communication process.
