Need Help Getting Your Research Published?

The University of Maryland, SON, is hosting a free 12 month workshop offering step-by-step manuscript development assistance from expert faculty. They are inviting 25 participants to take advantage of this exciting opportunity. Participants will attend four training webinars and complete homework assignments.

Survey Dataset Now Available to GAPNA Members

In the summer of 2013, GAPNA distributed a survey across a broad swath of advanced practice nurses to capture demographics and characterize practice patterns of those actively caring for older adults. The survey captured 1,281 responses and the data is now available for members to use. Application forms and instructions are available on the GAPNA website under the "Resources" tab and the "GAPNA Data Use Policy" link.
